Facebook Giveaway Winner Takes Home Panasonic VIERA Television and RedEye Remote for iPad, iPhone, and iPod touch from ThinkFlood

ThinkFlood soon announcing iPad winners from RedEye Remote Refer-a-Friend Sweepstakes

Waltham, MA – April 20, 2010 — ThinkFlood (<http://thinkflood.com/>) cofounders Matt Eagar and Adam Shapiro occasionally enjoy giving away items that can be used or controlled with their company's flagship product, the RedEye universal remote control system for iPad, iPhone and iPod touch.

ThinkFlood today announced that Kris Loewen of Alberta, Canada, is the proud winner of a 32" Panasonic VIERA LCD HDTV and a RedEye universal remote for iPhone, iPod touch and iPad. Kris entered the giveaway by becoming a fan of RedEye on Facebook (<http://www.facebook.com/thinkredeye>).

"I'm super excited! What a sweet prize," said giveaway winner Kris Loewen. "I didn't think I had a hope of winning; this is awesome!"

ThinkFlood is currently tallying entries for the RedEye Remote Refer-A-Friend Sweepstakes. Winners will receive an Apple iPad and a RedEye universal remote control system, which will allow them to retire their dedicated remote controls in favor of something with a lot more style.

About RedEye remotes

ThinkFlood's RedEye remotes turn the iPad, iPhone and iPod touch into universal remotes that offer high-end functionality at an affordable price. Using an Apple iDevice instead of a traditional remote, RedEye and RedEye mini users can operate anything controlled by infrared signals—TVs, DVRs, cable and satellite receivers, DVD and Blu-ray players, game consoles, stereos and more.

About ThinkFlood

ThinkFlood (<http://thinkflood.com/>) designs and develops remote control hardware and software. Its first commercial application, RedEye, turns the iPad, iPhone or iPod touch into a personal remote that allows control of virtually any home entertainment device from any room in the home. RedEye mini offers a similar level of control in a low-cost, portable form. All RedEye universal remote control products offer features and functionality previously available only in remotes costing several times as much. Founded in 2007, ThinkFlood is a privately held company headquartered in Waltham, Massachusetts. Sign up for ThinkFlood's RedEye newsletter at <http://thinkflood.com/news/newsletter>.

With over 4,000 fans and counting, RedEye is the most popular remote control on Facebook <http://www.facebook.com/thinkredeye>.
